Hello Son:

How are you doing. You sound great and are the best guitarist I have heard on VCKC stage. I know it is a lot of work and practice. You are learning so much.

God is using us both to make positive awareness and changes to help children. I pray many times a day for you, and hope others also pray for you to reunite with me for a healthier environment for you. Parental alienation is very unhealthy for you and for all alienated children. It is child abuse. I am so sorry I have not helped you more.

The drama for you will not stop as long as no one in the government or church seeks the truth. Truth does not change. Some may say many untruths about events, but what is true does not change. I am sorry another birthday and more holidays pass and you are alienated from me. It is very unhealthy in the current situation. Do not believe any lies that any of this situation is normal for you.

I am very sorry that Pastor Greg, VCKC staff, and others pulled you off the stage on Sunday. I can only image the drama you endured. The fault and result is not yours, the church should have responded differently. They had no empathy for you as a teenager and for the work you do to play guitar well. The church added to your abuse, and I am sorry that only you and I know the realities of the situations you have endured.

I want to see you play guitar on YouTube and in person. I want to teach you more guitar and music lessons. Also, I am working to get you an opportunity to play with a Senator's band here in KC.

I am running for political office, and because of your unwell situation I have written legislation to help children. I am sorry for what has and is happening evolving you. Other children are fatherless too. 2 of every 5 children are missing their father. I am try to improve this situation. I now have 11 legislative bills to promote to senators and representative to sponsor and make changes to law for the benefit of children. I am attempting to help the governor for the election.

Please contact me if you are not alienated from me or punished for messages to me. You are a strong teenager for previously sustaining a relationship and contact with me. This is so unbelievable that no one helps you.

I will continue to pray and make prayer requests for your assistance. As Pastor Greg spoke, "It is time to be friends again." and "Get connect." This does not substitute for real Christianity and faithful actions for others. Do not forget the Christianity which I have taught you. Question that which is presented as truth, but is actually gas lighting you and others. You are intelligent and know more than others think.

I pray always for God's protection for you and for reunification for us. You are always loved, supported, encouraged, and welcomed here and with me.

I pray that you read this email and are helped.

Love you much. Dad
